Laser Tracking System To Be Tested Here

A U.S. Army laser tracking system will be tested at Camp Grayling Sept. 15 to Nov. 10. A 100-person team from the White Sands Missile Range will test the laser equipment for part of the U.S. Army's Line of Sight-Forward Heavy Missile Air Defense System.

An environmental assessment of the project estimates $400,000 will be brought into the local area from motel and restaurant use of the 100-person team. Combining recreational activities of the team with motel and restaurant use will bring approximately $1 million into the local economy, the study says.

The AuSable Manistee Action Council (AMAC) released a statement Sept. 5 expressing concern for possible environmental damage from testing of the laser guidance system.

The AMAC news release stated the test site, on Range 30 a couple miles from the AuSable main stream, includes the endangered Kirtland's warblers' nesting area. The threatened bald eagle also inhabits the Camp Grayling area. The release said the flight patterns of A-7 jet fighters and AH-64 Apache attack helicopters, flying racetrack patterns to test the reaction of the missile defense system will extend over private property and occupied homes at low altitudes, and will produce noise outside Camp Grayling's boundaries in excess of 90 decibels, the noise level in a subway.

The AMAC release said the Army has issued a "Finding Of No Significant Impact" and plans to proceed with the test without an Environmental Impact Statement. AMAC concluded by saying that sportsmen and conservation groups are concerned with environmental damage and the conflict with bird and archery deer hunting season caused by the testing.

Major Jerry Foehl, Public Affairs Officer of Camp Grayling, said that an Environmental Assessment (EA) of the consequences of the laser tests was conducted by the Dynaspan Services Company at the request of the White Sands Missile Range and that measures will be taken to minimize any adverse consequences as a result of the testing. He said an Environmental Impact Statement is not required for the project.

Foehl expanded on the AMAC release by stating that the Kirtland's warblers will have migrated south before the laser testing begins, and that the bald eagle nest located on Camp Grayling is located 10-15 miles from the test site.

Lasers to be used in this testing are considered "non-eye safe," having the ability to damage the eyes of viewers within 6.75 miles of the source. Ground personnel on the test team will be protected by special laser goggles. Aviators within 8.7 miles must wear laser goggles with side protection. Foehl said the buffer zone of vegetation and terrain features of the testing area will block the non-eye safe laser beam from escaping the area surrounding the test site. Daily helicopter sweeps will be conducted to be sure civilians are out of the area, he said, and road guards will be posted to keep people out of the area when lasers are operating and to maintain security.

Foehl said the jet fighter and helicopter will be flying at altitudes of a minimum of 500-1000 feet before leaving Camp Grayling boundaries. Testing involving the aircraft will be conducted for only 10 days with two one-hour missions during daylight hours. Aircraft altitudes may vary while over Range 30. Foehl said recreational use of the area will be permitted on weekends.

CAMP GRAYLING BEST SITE

According to the Environmental Assessment, 286 training facilities were considered for the test site for the laser system. Only three matched German weather and only two, Camp Grayling and Fort Drum, N.Y., matched both the German weather and German terrain. Fort Drum was not large enough for the laser testing, therefore, Camp Grayling was the only viable choice for the required testing, the EA said.

The EA detailed possible environmental consequences of the laser testing which includes:

--possible water contamination due to fuel being trucked into the Camp and placed at various locations in the field. The amount of fuel needed during the test period is estimated at 49,000 gallons of diesel and 16,000 gallons of gasoline. Areas where fuel pods will be located will be lined and diked to guard against contamination. The EA said the limited quantities of smoke material to be generated during the testing will have no effect on underground water and no surface water will be within two kilometers of the smoke generation point.

--air pollution from engine exhaust and smoke materials to be released. Fog oil, used in combination with graphite, will be blown into the air to create smoke screens for portions of the testing. The smoke will be produced for 10 minutes at a time creating clouds approximately 20 meters wide, 20 meters high, and 500 meters long. The clouds are expected to disperse quickly.

--damage may include soil erosion in some areas because of increase in vehicle traffic; however, the EA states that roads and trails in Range 30 will be maintained during testing and returned to original state after testing.

--noise from generators, one jet fighter, and one helicopter.

--the impact on fish and wildlife will be minimal according to the EA. Most species will temporarily leave the area as soon as the activity levels increase. The non-eye safe lasers will be mounted on M113 armored personnel carriers at least five feet off the ground and the laser flight line should be above most wildlife which might wander into the area. The laser is pointed towards the oncoming aircraft. There will be no missiles fired in the testing.

The EA states that the laser tests will be completed before the November deer rifle hunting season but does not mention the small game season that begins Sept. 15 or the October bow and arrow hunting season that runs Oct. 1 to Nov. 15.

Foehl didn't know how effective the helicopter sweeps would be in spotting camouflaged hunters perched in tree blinds before dawn not knowing the hunting area was part of the test area. A map is included with this article to help inform the public of the test site. Copies of the Environmental Assessment for the project can be seen at Camp Grayling.

Kitchen Elected President Of State Regions Association

Crawford County Commissioner Jeanette Kitchen has been elected president of the Michigan Association of Regions for a one-year term.

The Michigan Association of Regions (MAR) consists of 14 regions statewide. Each region consists of a group of counties and Crawford County is a part of the Northeastern Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG) which is region nine. The MAR board meets three times a year and works to promote the State of Michigan through legislative funding.

An example of the MAR's influence was evident when the legislature intended to cut funding for the 641 Solid Waste Planning Commission in half. Kitchen said the MAR worked diligently through the offices of Rep. Ralph Ostling and Sen. Connie Binsfeld to convince the legislature of the importance of continued funding of this committee.

Kitchen brings to her new position 11 years of experience as a board member of NEMCOG, which represents an eight county area of the MAR. She has served on the Regional Solid Waste Planning Commission since she became a County Commissioner nearly 12 years ago. Kitchen has also held a seat on the District Mental Health Board, the Quality of Life bond grant review committee, and served as vice president of the MAR last year.

"My big interest lies with recycling, as it pertains to solid waste management," Kitchen stated. "If we could convince just a few more counties to begin recycling I would feel I had accomplished a worthwhile goal during my term as president of the MAR."

County Recreation Plan Still Held Up By State

Contrary to information published in an area weekly periodical and an area daily newspaper, the Crawford County Recreation Plan has not been approved by the DNR.

According to Hector Chiunti, chief of local government assistance and planning of the DNR's Recreation Division, the county plan is still in the reviewing process. Sue Lindroth, technical assistant for the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments, the agency that prepared the recreation plan, concurred with Chiunti's statement.

County commissioners approved the five-year plan at their June 22 meeting. The plan included recreation projects for Hanson Hills, Lovells' Douglas Park, and four sites within the City of Grayling.

The Grayling Recreation Authority, which operates Hanson Hills, and Lovells Township have already applied for grants through the DNR's Quality of Life Bond program.

The Hanson Hills' application was for $78,700 for construction of two soccer fields with bathroom facilities, bathroom facilities for the cross country ski lodge, an ice skating rink, and renovation of bathrooms in the main lodge.

Lovells Township's application was for $35,000 for the construction of a multi-purpose court at Douglas Park. This court will include tennis and basketball courts and an ice skating rink.

Twenty five percent of these grants must come from local funds, one-half cash contributions, and one-half from in-kind contributions such as volunteer labor or donated materials.

City Manager Jerry Morford explained that several factors prevented the city from submitting a grant application at this time. He said it was his understanding that the city could not submit a grant application until the county's recreation plan had been approved by the DNR. He also said the plan was not approved by the county until late June, which was after the city budget had been approved.

"An exact plan for both prioritizing the items in the project and providing the means to finance the city's share of the grant were not developed in time to be included in the city's budget," said Morford.

Travel Series Visits Blue Ridge Mountains

On Thursday evening, Sept. 21, the Crawford AuSable School District Community Education Office will present its first program of the Travel and Adventure Film Series at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School.

part of the Appalachian. They are considered to be some of the oldest mountains on earth.

In 1936 it was President Franklin D. Roosevelt who authorized the building of the Blue Ridge Parkway along the crest of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

From Waynesboro, Virginia, to Cherokee, North Carolina, the 470-mile Parkway was skillfully planned by landscape architects and engineers from the National Park Service to provide a great variety of visual experiences.

The more than 100 outlooks along the Parkway create an illusion that this is a park with boundaries extending to the horizon.

In his film Ken Creed covers the 470 miles of the Parkway and also people and other events along the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The adventure begins promptly at 7:30 p.m. Individual tickets at $3.50 will be available at the door as well as season tickets. A special treat to start the 1989 season will be cider and doughnuts served following the travelogue. If you still have not ordered season tickets, call the Community Education Office at 348-7641 ext. 27.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Back in prohibition days quite a few of the old timers were not adverse to running off a batch of moonshine now and then it was never a big thing in the area, just some boys trying their hand at it. Seems old John and Floyd decided to give it a try. They set up their still in an old wood camp south and east of Frederic. I guess things were going pretty well until they looked out one day and saw a State Police car coming up the trail. They had to make plans and make them quick or it was a vacation in Jacktown. Old John went flying out the door waving his arms at the State Police car shouting "Thank God you're here, my wife is having a baby and is in bad trouble and needs a doctor. Old Floyd in the meantime had jumped in bed and covered up and set to squealing and hollering. Floyd had a high squeaky voice and must have sounded right. The State Policeman took one quick look in the door and took off to find a doctor. As soon as he left they loaded up their still and supplies and took off for the tall timber. They stayed out of sight for a while to let things cool down but were never caught.

Some of the old lumberjacks had rather unique table manners. I remember that as a kid many old jacks stopped in to visit my folks. They were always ready for one of Mom's home cooked meals. I remember a lot of them always poured their coffee or tea into their saucer and drank from the saucer. I was always happy when peas were part of the meal. I was always fascinated watching them eat peas because they would pile them on their knife and with a steady hand raise and pour them in their mouth. I guess it was to show they had a steady hand or just an old habit. Another habit was stirring their tea or coffee with their thumb. I remember an old lumberjack song that went in part, I can see that you're a logger and not just an ordinary bum, for no one but a logger stirs his coffee with his thumb. Even when times were hard Mom never turned a hungry man away from her table. Folks in those days didn't seem to think it wrong to come at mealtime for a visit. It was taken as a compliment to a woman's cooking to have a gang at mealtime. If some folks came at mealtime Dad would say, put more water in the soup, we've got company. Mom could always go into the food celler and come up with plenty of food to see that all were fed. Mom used to make a lot of that good home-made mincemeat. I wish I had a piece of her great mincemeat pie right now.

I have spent the summer checking yard sales looking for a good old roll top desk. I, of course, didn't find one, if you know of one for sale at an affordable price, give me a call 348-8308. It would make my life a lot easier. I could just close the top instead of having to clean up my desk.

Almanack

By Richard Milliman
Avalanche President

At least one journalist makes it

There's at least some hope for all of us who write for newspapers. Tadeusz Mazowiecki proves it.

Mr. Mazowiecki is the Polish journalist who has become prime minister of his country -- the first non-communist prime minister of Poland since before World War II.

A key activist in the Solidarity movement in Poland, which has been at the base of winning non-Communist participation in Poland's government, Mr. Mazowiecki has been editor of Solidarity's weekly newspaper, as well as a close advisor to Lech Walesa, Solidarity leader.

Of course, Mr. Mazowiecki has been in jail and has been on strike and has been up front in all the pro-freedom activities in his homeland.

In my book, he should be in the Journalism Hall of Fame.

Journalists in some parts of the world are different than the bulk of journalists in this country. In many cases, they are open activists in political causes. Mr. Mazowiecki certainly has been.

Detractors of some American journalists would claim that's no different than what we have here -- but it is.

Now Mr. Mazowiecki has the opportunity to deliver on some of the things he has advocated as a journalist. That certainly is not a chance that many American journalists ever earn.

We wish him well.

JOURNALISTS DIE, TOO -- In the same vein, it might be noted that international journalism is not necessarily a calm and ivory tower occupation.

The Committee to Protect Journalists, a group organized to keep tabs on such things, recently reported that during 1988, world wide, 26 journalists were killed and at least one disappeared in the line of duty. It's clearly a dangerous profession. Although covering wars attracts the most attention, the biggest risk to journalists involves reporters covering crime and corruption at the local levels, according to Anne Nelson, director of the committee.

She said her group documented 800 incidents of threats, killings, injuries, or other harassment last year. The Philippines appears to be the most dangerous work place for local reporters, with five deaths last year.

Of course, the most noted journalist victim world wide continues to be American Terry Anderson, of the Associated Press, held as hostage in Lebanon.

Clearly, journalism can be a noble profession, in the most proper sense of the meaning of the term. Practitioners such as Tadeusz Mazowiecki and Terry Anderson are cases in point.

CHECK THE RETURNS

Malcolm Forbes also qualifies as a journalist, although he's on a completely different plane than anyone discussed here so far, or anyone whom I have met in a lifetime in the profession.

Mr. Forbes is the peripatetic publisher of Forbes Magazine (do you sense an ego problem here?) who thinks nothing of spending a couple of million dollars or so to throw his own birthday party, which he did recently.

The party was in Morocco, and Mr. Forbes rented three jets including an SST to fly his guests across the ocean, which sort of set the tone for the whole affair. But was the whole thing a tax dodge? Congressman Pete Stark worried.

The alert California Democrat wrote to the IRS: "I hope that you will ensure that the IRS inspects with a fine tooth comb any claim by the Forbes businesses for the reasonableness of party deduction. The public's support of the tax system is destroyed by reports of tax-deductible birthday bashes by belly-dancing billionaires."

Mr. Forbes allowed as how he had not planned to write off the party, even though he claimed he could do so because most of the guests were business associates. Hah.

Good for Mr. Stark. An ounce of alertness is worth several pounds of hindsight.

And while they're at it, maybe the IRS should be alert, too, to the spendings of Michigan's mini-Malcolm Forbes, our own Tom Monaghan, the pizza magnate who threw a similar but smaller scale binge a couple of years ago at Drummond Island for Michigan's business elite.

Just a suggestion.

Grayling and AuSable Just Keep Flowing Along

Dear Editor:

I'm back at work now - counseling and teaching at Austin Community College in Austin, Texas but glowing in humble appreciation of the special warm homecoming I received in Grayling this past summer.

Although my history in Grayling was relatively brief, it was one filled with rich experiences and associations. The experience has made me proud to be an "adopted son" of "Grayrock", and ever-looking forward to return visits whereby I can again share the canoe trips and special times with my many friends and extended family.

My life has taken me to new horizons and to new professional challenges but I will always cherish the time spent in Grayling as significant to my personal growth and a place to return, relax and recharge. It is, to me, a community of character, depth and genuineness as well as warmth and hospitality.

The rest of the world is fun and exciting, sometimes frustrating and anxiety-filled, but Grayling and the AuSable just keeps flowing along. My thanks to all for providing me with such a special and most welcome refuge. Steve Rison

Tournament Raises $3,600 for MDA

To the Editor:

On behalf of Fabiano Brothers, Inc., I would like to thank all the volunteers who worked very hard to make the Eighth Annual Budweiser/MDA Golf Tournament at the Grayling Country Club the success that it was.

Some very special appreciation is in order to many people who not only put forth a great deal of time and energy on the day of the tournament, but also in the many weeks preceding the event. These include everyone at the Grayling Country Club, Pete Mead, Chub Mead, John Herrick, and John Wejrowski.

We had 173 golfers participate in the charitable outing and $3,600.00 was donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

This year's event was a huge success due to the fact that people who participated did so with a true sense of giving to a charitable cause.

ALL ABOUT TOWN

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

Thank goodness that another school year has begun and I can go back to work, so I can start feeling like a productive member of society again.

Every June when school is dismissed for the summer, I am filled with grand plans and ambitions for the next three months. They come mainly in the form of undoing all the damage that I have done to myself, my house and my life for the past nine months.

I vow to undo all messes I have created, redo all the things I have undone and finish all the projects I have started. I plan to get heavily into home, yard and garden improvement. I intend to develop my mind, my soul and my body.

I believe anything can be done. After all, I have three months -- a quarter of a year. The world could be changed in that much time.

To facilitate the process, I make myself a list. This year's list of "Things to Do During the Summer" had 21 items. While writing it during the first week-end after school was out, I should have known it was too long. Even the questionnaire I recently received from the United States Senate Democrats asking me to prioritize the federal government's goals for the next three years had only ten items on it. So right from the start, I was probably dooming myself to disappointment and my mission to partial failure.

Also, I had competent relatives and friends to compare myself with. The Monday after school ended on Friday, we received a letter from my sister-in-law. "How's your summer going?" she wrote. "I'm enjoying mine. I've accomplished a lot already."

"What?!" I shrieked at Dave. "School has only been out for three days and that counts the week-end and the time for a letter to get written and mailed to us!" (I was still perfecting my "to do" list at that point.)

When we visited her at the end of that same week, she asked what we had been doing. "Well," I stalled, trying to think of impressive accomplishments to list. "I've started my summer job at the Avalanche and Dave has gone on a fishing trip."

She replied, "Last week we sold our house, bought another house, made plans for it to be totally remodeled and scheduled remodeling with a contractor."

"Is that all?" I asked sarcastically. (I had nearly all my garden planted by that point.) In late June, we received another letter from friends in Ohio. Typed perfectly on a word processor and reproduced on bright red paper, it was the second letter this year that they had sent around the country to their friends. (My 1988 Christmas cards are still lying in a box by my desk, with theirs on top, waiting to be sent out -- if possible -- in 1989.)

Here's what they have accomplished so far this year: They both taught at a university, they wrote a third edition of their textbook, they remodeled their old house, they moved to a new house, they went to Cancun, they saw their kids, they went to conferences, they opened their cottage, they were invited to present a paper at a conference in Switzerland.

"How can I keep up?" (By that time I had finished planting the flowers in my porch boxes.)

Then it was the 4th of July. You know, something strange occurs at that holiday. Even though the numbers don't seem to add up, you can be sure that once Independence Day has arrived, Labor Day is just around the corner. Anything not accomplished by early July is unlikely to get done during the rest of the summer.

Sure enough. I muddled through the rest of July and August, and managed to check off only eight items on my list. For example, I had planned to lose five pounds through increased exercise and sensible eating habits. Although I exercised like a banshee, I guess I also ate like one. At any rate, I went back to work having gained five pounds.

Another case in point. Goal number 21 was to remodel the bathroom. I visited two stores three times, chose a color scheme, changed it after consulting with Dave, changed it again for uninteresting reasons, and have yet to make a single purchase or schedule a plumber.

I did accomplish the goal of recarpeting the laundry room and kitchen. I didn't actually do the work, but I did participate in choosing the carpet, paying the bill and being at home when the man came to lay it.

I didn't, however, accomplish the goal of restraining our kitchen bar stools. One evening last week, Dave asked gently, "Weren't you going to stain those stools last summer?" They look sort of bald without stain.

"Yes," I replied sheepishly. Not one day had passed this summer that I hadn't told myself, "Today is the day I stain the stools." So that night I guiltily got out the stain (purchased since June) and applied the first coat. Afterward, I accidentally kicked over the quart of stain on the kitchen carpeting we had bought in July.

So now I have to buy more stain and I still have to finish the stools and replace the carpet and remodel the bathroom and lose five pounds and 13 other items on last summer's list.

But not to worry. I'll just put those items on my list for next summer.

GHS Class of '64 to Sponsor Benefit Homecoming Dance

The Class of 1964 to sponsor a benefit homecoming dance? That's right! Isn't this about 25 years late? Not really. The GHS Class of 1964 is celebrating its 25th reunion and decided to do something different for their 25th by having a Homecoming Dance. This year marks the graduation of the 100th class from GHS so it is a good time to have a Homecoming Dance for the adults. People should make plans for the attending the dance with that "special someone."

In the planning process for the Class of 1964's 25th Reunion, someone suggested that the class do something to help Marcia Sorenson Sullivan's family defray their continuing expenses caring for their son, John.

John Sullivan, now 21, was struck by lightning in 1985 during a high school golf tournament. He was not breathing and did not have a pulse when medics arrived, but he survived. A year later he survived a rare heart virus, even though he hovered near death for days. He is improving every day.

John is cared for by his family in their home. The living room and dining room have been converted to a hospital room. They are presently adding a bathroom to the main level so that John will not have to be carried to the upstairs bathroom for bathing.

It was decided that the profits of the Homecoming Dance will go to Marcia Sorenson Sullivan and her family to help with the rehabilitation and caring of John. Marcia, a member of the Class of 1964, is the daughter of Doris and the late Bud Sorenson. Bud and Doris were the owners of the Sorenson Funeral Home.

The Homecoming Dance is in conjunction with the GHS Homecoming Week-end. It will be held in the Middle School gym Saturday, Sept. 30, from 9 p.m. to midnight, or so. Music will be by Free Wheeling Fred. Tickets are $10 single, $15 couples. Since it is being held in the Middle School gym, there can be no smoking or alcoholic beverages.

The GHS Alumni Association is holding their annual banquet at the K of C Hall and the Grayling High School will be having their Homecoming Dance on the same evening. It will truly be a night for dancing. No matter what your age, there will be a dance for you that night.

The Class of 1964 is having its Reunion Dinner before the dance, starting with a social hour at 6 p.m. But it sounds like most of Saturday will be spent decorating the gym. Now this is truly going back to your high school days.

This could catch on and become an annual event. Tickets will be available at Goodale's Bakery and Mae's Drug Store, as well as individuals who will be selling them.

Before lunch a prayer was given by Rev. Robert Gordon. Guests were from Higgins Lake, Roscommon, Grayling and other places.

She was accompanied by her son and wife, Bob and Margaret Sunday of Brighton, Margaret's sister and husband, Diane and Jim Owens, and Jim's mother, Edna Owens, of Sterling Heights. They flew from Detroit to Vancouver and boarded the ship which took them up the Inside Passage to Anchorage. They stopped in Skagway, Ketchikan, Juneau, Sitka and saw the Lynn Canal, Columbia Glacier, Whittier and College Fjord. After the 8-day trip they flew back to Detroit from Anchorage.

Thank You
Please let me thank each of you for your prayers, cards and concern following my accident. Being released from the hospital last Friday, is great encouragement. With a few days rest, I will be back on the job.

Viking Girls Win Conference Opener

Grayling hosted Rogers City for the first conference Varsity girls basketball game on Thursday, September 7, and defeated the Hurons, 54-43.

Grayling came onto the floor like gang busters and controlled the ball throughout the first quarter leading Rogers City 15-3 at the beginning of the second quarter.

Grayling's pressing defense continued to contain Rogers City for the remainder of the game and maintain their lead. However, mistakes in the form of turnovers and fouls allowed Rogers City to bring the score within six points at half time, 26-20 and within eight points at the end of the third quarter.

Grayling went to the free throw line 12 times compared to Rogers City's 28 times, and Grayling shot only 4 for 12 when at the line.

"Anytime you have a differential of 16 free throws," said Coach Howard Lehti, "you're not going to win many ball games."

Grayling suffered 23 turnovers.

Sophomore Michelle Burcham was the high scorer with 14 points. Other scores were made by: Melanie Ojala 10, Nikki Morrill 7, Anne Petrosky and Heather Stephenson 6, Nikki Trenary 5 and Margarita Perez, Janet Bickford, and Lisa Barber with 2 points each.

"Grayling got off to a good start," said Lehti. "It is exactly how we want to come out for every first and third quarters, refreshed with the game plan foremost in our minds." Lehti said his team still has difficulty playing four intense quarters.

"We jump off to 15-3 lead and then suffer a let down, allowing our lead to evaporate," he said.

Lehti credited Burcham and Trenary for their aggressive offensive and defensive efforts. he said Ojala once again showed her sixth sense for basketball and nose for the ball. Ojala was all over the court and Lehti credited her mobility for the reason Grayling's press was so effective.

"She actually knows where the ball is going to be thrown and that is why she comes up with so many steals," stated Lehti. Ojala had over 100 steals last year which was a new school record.

Lehti said Grayling kept Rogers City guessing what press they were going to throw at them.

Grayling used three different presses Thursday evening, and Lehti said he would keep the multiple presses in their bag of tricks throughout the season.

On Tuesday, September 5, Grayling was defeated by Roscommon, 53-32.

"We thought we had everything going for us by half time," said Lehti. "We slowed the tempo of the game down when we wanted to and we speeded it up when we wanted to."

We had Roscommon in foul trouble early in the ball game, and then came the disastrous third quarter. "In the third quarter to take a 39-19 lead Roscommon scored 23 points to Grayling's 5."

"Roscommon is a good team, and we knew we had our work cut out for us," said Lehti. "The Roscommon game was a humiliating experience, and proved to all of us how much we still need to improve our game."

Nikki Trenary was high scorer with 10 points. Other points were scored by: Ojala and... Stephenson 8, Morrill 3, Shannon

Michelle Burcham

Melanie Ojala

Hinds 2, and Perez 1.

Grayling travels to Sault Ste. Marie next Saturday for their annual overnight trip. The team will be staying at St. Ignace, eating their pre-game meal together at 2 p.m. and then traveling to the Soo for the game.

"The Soo has four starters back," said Lehti.

"They are quick, know how to press, and are favored to win the conference title this season."

However, by next Saturday Grayling will have a game plan that we feel will be competitive with the game the Soo is capable of playing."

J.V. Girls Win Conference Opener

The Grayling J.V.'s won their conference opener Thursday evening, September 7, defeating the Rogers City Hurons, 45-33.

Coach Dallas Hudson said his team executed their game plan much better, and seemed to have learned from their loss to Roscommon on the previous Tuesday.

Brenda Moshier was high scorer with 12 points. Other points were scored by Kim Labo 11, Ellisa Cox 7, Cindy Fedewa 6, Michelle Parker and Tara Bertalan 4 each, and Kristel Lamie 1.

Moshier and Labo dominated the game offensively and defensively leading in points scored and rebounding. Labo led in rebounds. Coach Hudson said he was especially pleased with Moshier's game, coming off an ankle injury.

Fedewa had good second half. Hudson said she can anticipate the ball, has a good break away and possesses quickness which enables her to steal the ball.

Coach Hudson said his team has much to learn about the game of basketball, but they are learning with every practice and with every game.

At Roscommon on Tuesday, September 5, the J.V. team lost, 45-18.

First game jitters combined with a hodgepodge of errors cost the young team dearly. "We did not execute our game plan against Roscommon's aggressive press and we turned over the ball unnecessarily," said Hudson. "Next time we meet Roscommon we will play a different game."

Hudson said the game was not a total loss. There were many lessons learned and Thursday night's performance was the result of those learned lessons.

Parker was high scorer with 4 points. Other scores were made by: Moshier, Fedewa and Bertalan 3 each, Lamie 2 and Andrea Austin 1.

The J.V.'s will be travelling to the Soo on Saturday morning, September 16, for their season opener.

"This game will be an excellent test of what we have learned in the past two weeks," said Hudson.

Vikings Beat Kalkaska

With about four minutes remaining in the game a 60 yard bootleg and pass play from quarterback Matt Branch to Mick McKinney put Grayling ahead of Kalkaska, 14-10, giving the Vikings their first victory of the season.

Kalkaska scored twice in the first quarter last Friday, September 8, on a field goal and then again with a touchdown. The point after was good giving the home team a 10-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Grayling scored in the second quarter following a good drive when Frank Hartwick carried the ball over from one yard out.

Grayling lined up to kick the extra point but Kalkaska was penalized half the distance to the goal and from there John Lamie carried the ball for the two point conversion. Score at the end of the half: Kalkaska 10, Grayling 8.

The score stayed at 10-8 until late in the fourth quarter when Grayling executed its 60 yard touchdown. The conversion effort failed.

Coach Don Stowers said Jim Abney played a good game making some good tackles on defense.

"Matt Branch did a good job throwing the ball," he said, "especially the last touchdown. He showed good poise when he held onto the ball until he found the right receiver."

Coach Stowers said Mick McKinney played an exceptional game.

"Mickey made a nice run when he scored that touchdown," said Stowers. "Another time when he was back to punt he bobbled the snap and had to run with it picking up a first down which really helped us." McKinney also punted well in the last quarter.

Another advantage for the Vikings, according to Stowers, is the kicking ability of foreign exchange student, Andy Eriksson.

"Our last two kick-offs went into Kalkaska's end zone giving Grayling good field position," he said.

"That is something Grayling has not had in several years."

Next week Grayling travels to Cheboygan.

"We feel we have everything to gain and nothing to lose," Stowers said. "This is the last time we will be playing Cheboygan, and we will be giving them our best shot." Next year Grayling will be playing in a new conference made up of smaller schools more their own size. Cheboygan has nearly twice the student population of Grayling.

J.V. Football Team Wins 2nd in a Row

Coach Fred Wolcott described the J.V.'s victory 22-6 over Kalkaska on Thursday, September 7, as "a good game."

"Both teams played strong defense," said Wolcott. "Offensively the game was decided by a couple of big plays."

Grayling scored its first touchdown late in the second quarter on a 60 yard pass from Aaron Raymond to Matt Gingerich. The two point conversion was run in by Gary Schroyer putting the Vikings ahead 8-0 at halftime.

Grayling's second score came with about 11 seconds remaining in the third quarter on a one yard run by the quarterback, Raymond. The touchdown run had been set up by Don Baker and Schroyer, who were running the ball well, and had taken it to the one yard line. The conversion effort failed, making the fourth quarter starting score 14-0, Grayling.

With about nine minutes to go in the fourth quarter Grayling scored for the third time on a 45 yard pass from Raymond to Gingerich. Raymond threw again to Jim Schwartz who carried the ball in for the two point conversion, bringing the score to 22-0.

Kalkaska scored the final touchdown in the game with about 4 1/2 minutes remaining, their point after attempt failed.

Wolcott said Grayling's entire defensive team played good ball. Offensively, he said Raymond had an excellent game, calling audibles at the line and throwing the ball.

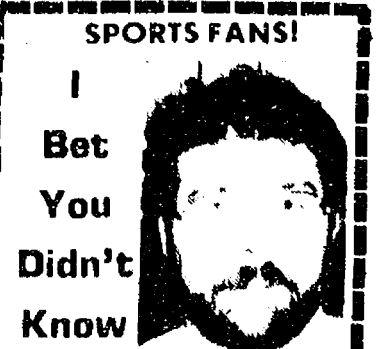

"Baker and Schroyer had good gains running behind a line that was blocking well," Wolcott said.

Next week the J.V.'s face their first conference game at Cheboygan.

"Cheboygan is always tough for us," Wolcott stated, "but we can beat them if we continue to believe in ourselves and don't make mistakes."

Oddly enough, the player who holds the record for scoring the most points in one game in the history of the National Football League also gave up 2 home runs to Babe Ruth. That unusual player was Ernie Nevers. He set the all-time NFL record for most points by one player in one game when he scored 40 points for the Cardinals (on 6 touchdowns and 4 extra points) in a game against the Bears in 1920. Meanwhile, Nevers also pitched in big league baseball and in 1927 he gave up 2 homers to Ruth.

What are the most games a pitcher ever won in big league baseball in one season? The record is held by Charles (Old Hoss) Radbourn. He won the amazing total of 60 games in 1884. His complete record that year was 60-12. It's safe to say there's a record that may never be broken in the future.

We all know that Bear Bryant was a successful and famous football coach at Alabama for many years, but did you know he was also head coach at 3 other colleges in his career? Can you name them? Bryant was head coach at Maryland, Kentucky, and Texas A&M.

Archers Acres Plan Another Outdoor Shoot This Weekend

Archers Acres hosted their first outdoor shoot this past weekend amongst the raindrops. Saturday was nearly a washout, although there were a few die-hards who still showed up to test their skill. Sunday brought a much better response. Persons attended from all around Michigan: Grayling, Atlanta, Traverse

City, Mio, Harrison, Luzerne, Fenton, Brighton and Southfield. Twenty-eight life size hand painted Broadhead targets and 28 3-D targets including an 8 ft. Grizzly and Elk popped up all over 60 acres in real life like settings for archers to shoot at. Free stands, blinds, and pits are all a part of the walk-through course. The V.F.W. was on hand to sell hot dogs and chili. Chuck Fick & Sons donated trash barrels for the event. All in all, response was good. If you weren't able to attend last weekend, Archers Acres will be doing the same thing again this weekend Sept. 16 and 17. Trophies will be awarded in each division, all styles of shooting. They're located 8½ mi. east of downtown Grayling on M-72. For further information call Diane at 348-4017 or Rich at 348-8357.

Vitamin E is Conserved, Recycled by the Body

Vitamin E can be recycled by the same enzymes that enable our cells to utilize oxygen to produce energy, according to researchers in the Applied Science Division at Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory (LBL).

The findings explain a well-known paradox: humans and animals require vitamin E to protect their cell membranes against damage from activated forms of oxygen called "radicals," yet adult humans and animals on a diet totally devoid of this vitamin never develop symptoms of deficiency.

CONSUMER CHECKLIST

Chimney Check

Uninvited squirrels or birds may have made your chimney their home over the summer. Their nests can cut the airflow that draws smoke from the fireplace. To check for flue obstructions, drop a weight attached to a strong string down from the top of the chimney. If it reaches the flue bottom the chimney's clear. Shining a flashlight up the flue from the fireplace is another way of checking.

O.E.S. Past Matrons Honored at Dinner

Members and guests of the Past Matrons Club of Grayling Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, met at the Masonic Temple on August 30 for their annual potluck dinner.

Special honored guests for the evening were several Grayling ladies who have been members of the order for over 50 years each. Those so honored were: Mamie Straehly, Doris Souders, Bernice Smith, Elsie Larson Lillian Houghton and Helma Post. Bernice Hilton and Beverly Kinkert were unable to attend. Also honored in absentia were Ruth Woods of Flint, Grace Andrews of Grand Haven and Ethel Taylor Pierce of Mass. These eight ladies represent 523 years of membership - from 50 to 69 years each.

The next meeting will be October 18th at the Temple.

Thank you

To my very dear family and all of my friends here in Grayling, who helped ease me into the 90's, my sincere thanks. You were all just wonderful, and I want you to know I deeply appreciate everything very much. It was really a wonderful party, and I found out how many friends I have in Grayling.

I have lived in the area since I was 16 years old - finished my school days at Frederic High - met my husband at a country square dance and just could never see anyone else after him. We married May 23, 1918. He left immediately for the service at Camp Custer. He had been a cook for a number of years, so he got his fingers in the cooking game right away. He went to cooking school at Camp Custer, and was advanced to Sergeant 1st class. I went to Battle Creek and got a job at Lela Hospital right away. He was discharged in May 1919. We came home to Grayling, where he went back to his old cooking job at summer resorts along the AuSable River. We promptly started filling our home with babies, 9 of them. We raised 8, but finally lost one son at age 31 by a tragic drowning. Our life was full of happiness and joy, lots of love and some scraps all around and some sorrows. Just normal.

If I had it to do over again, I would do the same thing. Thanks again, everyone, for everything.

The Bible Speaks

The Gospel of John Part #95 Prayer for Jubilation

One important mark of a Christian is joy. "And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves." (John 17:13). Our Lord Jesus Christ has prayed for Christians to have joy. Our first reason for joy is in the person of God seated in victory in Heaven. "And now come I to thee..." The psalmist spoke of God as "My exceeding joy" in Psalm 43:4. "...In thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore." (Psalm 16:b,c). We can say with Habakkuk in 3:18, "Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation." The second fruit of the Spirit listed is "joy". (Gal. 5:22). We share the joy of Peter in 1 Peter 1:8, "Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory."

Not only do we rejoice in the person of God, but also in His word. "...and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves." Jesus had already made this statement in John 15:11, "These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full." God's Word brings us joy! Jeremiah knew this centuries ago, "Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts." (Jeremiah 15:16).

Finally, the work of God brings the fulfillment of God's joy to our own hearts. "...That they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves." Our Lord Jesus Christ gave us the grand example of joy in salvation as He faced the cross for us. "Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God." (Heb. 12:2). All heaven is filled with joy at the salvation of souls. "I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance." (Luke 15:7).

From Calvary Baptist Church

God commands us to be joyful. "Rejoice evermore." (1 Thess 5:16). Christ has prayed for us to be joyful. (John 17:13). God has made His person, word, and work available for our continual joy. Christian should be filled with joy! (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

CHURCH DIRECTORY

HOURS AND YEARS

"Grow old along with me... the best is yet to be," the sundial seems to say. It's a nice thought, but is it true?

What is best in life? Childhood? Adolescence? The Middle Years? The peace that should come with the twilight of life? Who is to say?

Life is full of many questions and very few answers. The hours bring with them unexpected contrasts of happiness and sorrow—of assurance and dismay—of wealth and poverty, both spiritual and material.

Because of this very uncertainty, we need something far more stable than a sundial to "grow old along with." We need substance, endurance, solidity. We need faith.

Where to find it? How about looking, first, in the church or synagogue of your choice? How about this week?

Detecting Structural Failure

Structural failures that have plagued the nation's fleet of commercial airliners lately might have been detected—and perhaps even prevented—with widespread use of a testing procedure developed by a Texas A&M engineer. For more than five years, research efforts have focused on a method of detecting flaws by measuring changes in the structure's vibration response, a method now undergoing tests.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Illegal commercialization in protected species of fish and wildlife is a widespread, multi-million dollar problem faced by wildlife agencies worldwide. A recent joint operation in New England between state agencies in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service points out the seriousness of the problem. In this operation undercover operators gleaned evidence which resulted in 962 charges being filed against 28 individuals. The charges ranged from illegal taking, possession and selling of game to unlicensed taxidermists, to conspiracy to insurance fraud.

Over a period of 2

years, the undercover operators found the criminal activity so widespread that they had to concentrate strictly on the poaching of bears, ignoring for the time being the activity aimed at deer, waterfowl and endangered species.

Most of the illegal trafficking in bears was for the gall bladder. The person taking the bear would get $50 to $250 for the gall bladder which would then sell for $600 in the Orient. A whole bear would fetch $500 and resell for $3,000. In one instance, 218 gall bladders were bought for $5,000 and resold for $11,000. That means that 218 bear carcasses were left to rot in the woods. This problem is widespread. Thousands of bears are killed in North America each year so that the first sized gall bladder can be taken and sold. Locally, I have seized traps and snares set to take bears in July and August.

Most people have no conception of the seriousness of the poaching problem. The concept of the "Good ole boy" taking a deer to feed his family does not hold water. You have friends and neighbors who will do anything to make a few dollars or kill a trophy white tail.

The only answer is to let them know that their behavior is not acceptable. As they say, if you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem.

Hunting

By Joe Murphy

With the kind permission of the Avalanche staff, I will write a series of eight columns that I hope hunters both young and old will find helpful. If the good Lord's willing, I will watch the dawn break, sitting in the woods on the first day of deer season just as I have for forty seven years before. I have not missed a first day since I started back in forty two. Hunting has provided me with many very fine days in the woods, food for my table and many golden memories.

Strange as it may seem, my best memories are not of my kills, but of those bucks that outsmarted me. I have always felt that as soon as the kill is made the fun is over, the rest is all work. Some people say they don't like venison. It could be they have never had good venison. If you treated a prime beef the way some folks treat venison, they wouldn't like beef either. A plump young deer that is killed cleanly, dressed out right and cooled and skinned promptly can provide some of the best meat I know of.

The first and most important thing to learn about hunting is gun safety. I know they have hunter safety classes now which are very important. Gun safety can never be over emphasized. Here again are some of the basic rules: Treat every gun as if it was loaded. Never point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot. Do not trust a gun's safety device. Learn how to load and unload your gun safely. Keep gun pointed away from other people. Never use your scope to look at other people. Do not hunt with anyone who is careless of gun safety. Never indulge in horseplay with guns. Be sure of your target and its background before shooting. Never carry a gun in ready-to-fire mode. Never carry a loaded gun in vehicles, it is not only illegal but very dangerous. These are just reminders of what common sense requires. Wear plenty of hunter's orange clothing.

Now is a good time to take that rifle out and sight it in. Go out prepared to do a good job, ammo, targets, and needed tools. Find a safe location, allowing at least one hundred yards for shooting. Do not try to sight in shooting offhand. A bench rest is best, but any way that allows shooting from a steady position will work. Try one carefully aimed shot at a target placed at about 35 feet. At that distance you should be on the paper. Adjust sights till you hit exact point of aim. Now move to 100 yards. You should be on or very close to point of aim. Make final adjustments. With scopes make sure mount is tight before sighting in. A rifle in the 30-06 class I like to sight in to shoot 3 inches high at 100 yards. That allows point of aim shooting out to 300 yards. It is better to use the ammo needed to get your rifle sighted in right, then if you miss you have only yourself to blame.

A Look At Our Past

23 YEARS AGO
September 8, 1966

A record breaking finishing time was set by the first two teams in the Twentieth Annual Canoe Marathon. Winners were Ron Hohman of Oscoda and Jerry Lauers of East Tawas with a finishing time of 16 hours, 49 seconds.

Next year's annual Field Training dates for National Guard units from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana were released by Major General Clarence C. Schnipke, the Adjutant General of Michigan. General Schnipke said that he expected a total of 27,000 troops would train at Camp Grayling from May 27 to July 29 of the 1967 summer encampment.

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce announced its new officers and members of its Board of Directors for the coming year. The new president was William Kraus; vice president, John Latusek; and the new treasurer was Billie Forbes. Board members were: Jerry Burns, Ray Elsey, Bernard Fowler, Sandy Thompson, Major Edmund Rutkowski and Donald Welser. Mrs. Roy Roper continued as corresponding secretary, and Karl H. Longworth was retained for the third year as Executive Manager. Chestnut lampreys, long credited with ruining the quality of trout fishing in the Upper Manistee River, were attacked by chemical treatment in late September or early October.

Dr. Wayne Tody, acting state fisheries chief, said the river had gone down to a 'near-zero' trout population and surveys had pinned the blame on the native chestnut lamprey, which is a near-relative of the big sea lamprey of the Great Lakes. Both lampreys kill their prey by fastening to a fish with a suction-like mouth, then rasping a hole in the victim in order to suck its blood.

The newly-formed Upper Manistee River Association was responsible for pushing for the rehabilitation program. Following the total kill, a replanting program was carried out to rebuild the trout population.

Crawford County Treasurer, Claribel Goss, announced that county taxpayers could save the $3.00 collection fee if they paid their 1964 taxes before October 1st, 1966.

Sausage Nibbles

1 1/2 c. Packaged biscuit mix
1/2 lb. Bulk Italian sausage
1/4 lb. Shredded sharp cheddar cheese
Whole water chestnuts, cut into quarters

Pepper-Onion Relish

If you have a bumper crop of peppers, indulge in making this sprightly tasting, colorful pepper condiment.
2 1/4 cups distilled white vinegar
1 1/4 cups water
1/4 cup + 1 tbsp. Sweet 'N Low granulated sugar substitute
4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 lbs. onions, chopped
1 lb. red peppers, chopped

Combine biscuit mix, sausage and cheese with hands until thoroughly blended. Shape a little of the mixture around a piece of water chestnut to form a ball. Place on baking sheet and bake about 15 minutes at 400°. Serve with mustard for dipping.

In large pot over high heat, combine vinegar, water, Sweet 'N Low and salt; bring to a boil. Add vegetables; cook 5 minutes. Spoon into hot sterilized jars, allowing 1/2 inch headspace (or follow jar manufacturer's instructions if different). Wipe rims with clean cloth dipped in hot water. Close according to jar manufacturer's instructions and process in boiling-water bath 20 minutes. Makes 4 pints.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

During a recent excursion in search of blackberries, I chanced to walk through an area covered by at least two, if not three, different kinds of goldenrod. I was certain there were several different kinds, but how many was the question. Goldenrods are part of the Composite or Daisy Family and according to one field guide, they may be divided into the following categories for identification: plumelike, elm-branched, clublike, wandlike and flat-topped.

In the plumelike category you will find Tall, Sweet, Late, Canada, Early, Rough-Stemmed, Sharp-Leaved, Boot's, Gray, Bog, Pine-Barren and Elliott's.

In the elm-branched category there is Rough-Leaved, Zigzag and Elm-Leaved. In the club-like category there is Stout, Seaside, Showy and Large-Leaved. There is one goldenrod in the wandlike category names aptly enough Wandlike, but there are others named Hairy, Erect, Blue-Stemmed, Downy and Alpine. In the Flat topped part of the family you will find are Lance-Leaved, Slender-Fragrant, Heart-Leaved and the Ohio.

Often found growing in proximity to ragweed, the goldenrod is often blamed for causing respiratory problems when the culprit is the ragweed. The goldenrod is a flower of late summer and a good indication of the impending change in the season, so enjoy its bright color while there is time.

Strolling Around Town

By Fay Bovee (348-7017)

There are many people in Grayling that do notice when improvements are made in homes and businesses. Today's "stroll" is the result of a phone call commenting on some of those.

The first is the facade on Dr. Dean's and Dr. Hoffman's office on Michigan Avenue near the elementary school and another block away the North Central Credit Union seems to have started construction on offices where the old Americana Motel once stood. Derek and Denise McEvers have made an improvement on the very old company house that they reside in on Chestnut just off Michigan. A new roof has been put on and pale yellow vinyl siding with some decorative window treatment. Shutters and new steps and paint on the porch will finish it up.

The Richard Lovely home on Park Street has been remodeled, I believe in preparation for someone's retirement home, and the Les Hunter garage across the street has a new roof and fresh paint on the house. Rita and George McEvers have an extremely well-kept yard and someone on Fulton Street has a beautiful vegetable garden. Dora and Bessie Feldhauser have had their garage demolished, a new driveway put in, and construction started on a new garage. In the business area, Victoriana and Weaver's have been freshly painted in Victorian colors—very pretty!

Verse or Worse

A Stroll In The Woods

When the long hectic day is over
Just as the sun is going down
I like to take a stroll in the woods
Far from the rush and noise of town

The evening news on T.V.
Was full of war, drugs and crime
I don't see how people keep their sanity
With out some quiet peaceful time

No matter what the season
Summer's green leaves or winter's snow
I can always find some thing to warm my heart
When into the quiet woods I go

Just the silence is a blessing
As I stroll along the wood land trail
I stop, hearing the brush cracking
To see a deer's white waving tail

I stop beneath some tall pine trees
To listen to their age old song
As the evening breeze kisses their branches
My heart grows lighter as I move along

Two noisy squirrels stop their play
High in a tall oak tree
With a lot of chit and chatter
I'm glad I don't know what they're calling me

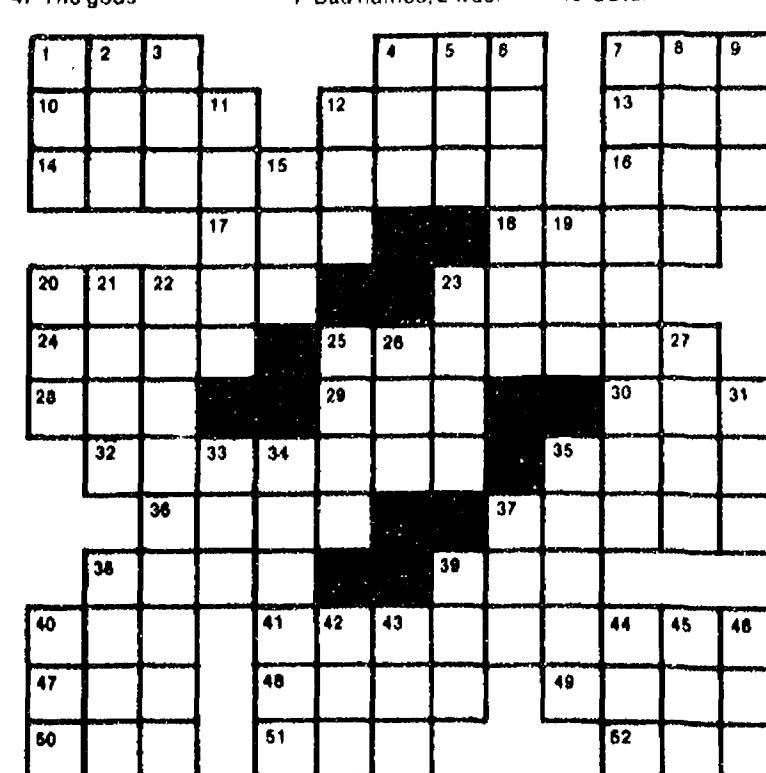

Here I find peace and contentment
Where all goes according to God's plan
It is only by living close to nature
That I am able to cope with man

FOOTBALL Contest

1st Place Wins $50 Each Week!

Mike Beckwith of Higgins Lake won the $50 prize for the 1st week of our contest by picking 17 of 20 right and by hitting the 2nd tiebreaker right on the nose. He edged Paula Derenzy, of Grayling, in the 2nd tiebreaker. They both had 17 of 20 right. Also having 17 of 20 right but losing in the 1st tiebreaker were Marie St. Germain and Mick McNamara.

Hitting 18 of 20 right were Gary Derenzy, Betty MacLeod, Sally McNamara, Chad Kelly, Marvin Forbes, Steven Flick, Arthur Thayer, and Carol Conklin. 108 readers played in the contest with 8 of 20 being the lowest score (we won't tell your name).

Next week, along with publishing the weekly winner, we'll publish leaders of the overall contest.

Weekly Winner

Here's how to be the weekly winner:

1. Write down your prediction for game number 1 on entry form.
2. Write down the advertiser's name on entry form for game number 1.
3. Fill out the rest of the entry form this way including the two tie-breakers (your prediction on the total points scored by both teams in games 1 & 20).
4. Return the entry form by 5 p.m. Friday to the Avalanche.
5. The person with the most correct picks wins $50 from the Avalanche.

Overall Winner

New this year: will be an overall winner at the end of our season. Here's how it works. The Avalanche Football Contest will run 15 straight weeks. The person with the most correct picks at the end of 15 weeks will win $50 and have bragging rights as the wisest football person in Crawford County.

It's important to turn your picks in every week. Example: Joe Blow turns his picks in the 1st week and gets 18 of 20 right. The 2nd week he forgets to turn his picks in. Susan Smart turns her picks in the 1st week and gets 15 of 20 right. She turns her picks in the 2nd week and gets 13 of 20 right. After 2 weeks she's ahead of Joe Blow 28-18 in the contest for overall winner.
